

Indianapolis Motor Speedway

Since 1951, Fink Roberts & Petrie has been a design consultant to the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Through the years, FRP has earned a distinguished reputation in a world where the smallest detail is under scrutiny. With almost a half-century of experience at the mecca of the racing industry, FRP has developed a unique perspective on the requirements of a world-class racing facility.

The Indianapolis Motor Speedway has called on FRP to perform the following: master planning, feasibility studies, architectural design, site design, structural design, bridge design, surveying, value engineering, pavement and inspection and renovation of existing structures.
